

PRESS RELEASE ISSUED BY NORTH CRAVEN BUILDING PRESERVATION TRUST

14 October 2003

Half term week will be the last chance for visitors to Settle's 17th century Folly to see the rich and colourful exhibition 'Reginald Farrer: the Father of Rock Gardening' which has been on show for the 2003 season. To coincide with the final days of the exhibition, Mrs Joan Farrer is giving an illustrated talk entitled 'Reginald Farrer: the Boy, the Man' in The Folly on Saturday, October 25th at 7.30p.m., drawing on the wealth of documentary and photographic material in the family archives. Due to limited space, advance booking is essential and tickets are available from Lamberts News and Toys, Cheapside, Settle. The Folly will be open from 10.30a.m. to 4.30p.m. on October 25th, 26th and 28th and, in addition to the Farrer exhibition, visitors will be able to see 'Views of Old Settle' and 'Some Settle Victorians' as well as the permanent displays on North Craven life.

Further information about The Folly, the exhibitions and visiting arrangements is available on the website at <http://www.ncbpt.org.uk/folly> or by ringing 015242-51388.
